The North African Campaign has so far had an underestimated impact on the outcome of the Second World War.

Access to recently declassified confidential documents allows us to confirm that "the soft underbelly" [Mr. Winston Churchill] was instead a theater in which the fate of the conflict was played out.

"It was not possible to describe the battles in the desert without adopting a new approach. With a new logistical engine we have redesigned the importance of motorization, convoys, shipping capacity but above all recreated the bottleneck effect of African ports" explains Emanuele Santandrea, director of Research and Development at VentoNuovo.

"Rewatching shooting prose at 91 years old together with my son to develop this new system made me feel young again and remember when we studied Aunchinleck" says Antonio Santandrea, a Folgore officer who adds "Today the world is no longer the same as it was 50 years ago and it would be foolish to expect everything to remain the same as before."

"Even though we enjoy making dioramas and painting with a brush, the use of advanced printing techniques allows us to get the best out of resolutions higher than 300 dpi, even up to 1200dpi, obtained with vector drawing that were unthinkable in the Photoshop era."

"In this way we can avoid wasting resources while providing additional information" explains Emanuele Santandrea.

"We are and will remain an ethical family-run company committed to spreading culture to promote solidarity between peoples and fight all forms of violence and we believe that responsible gaming is an essential tool for this purpose" adds Antonio Santandrea.

So stay tuned... And more details will follow!
